SUN HERALD

Project Management Solutions Group, which has offices in Pascagoula, Jackson and Mobile, is looking to hire 30 personnel by April.

Since establishing offices in Jackson, followed by Pascagoula and now Mobile, the company has made an effort to become informed about the planning objectives of each city and the needs of the communities.

The company's presence on the Gulf Coast comes after providing prime contractor services to Fortune 500 companies within the Southeast, successfully securing multi-million dollar contracts as a prime contractor.

Most recently, the company has been charged with securing candidates for approximately 600 engineering positions in the Gulf Coast.

Currently, PMSG is collaborating with organizations such as Dorsey & Dorsey Engineering, Mississippi Association of Builders and Contractors, Express Professionals, Baheth Research and Development Laboratories the Mobile Chamber of Commerce and the City of Mobile.

With a roster of 80 employees, PMSG plans to increase that number to 110. More than 90 percent of the firm's employees are veterans.
